The Challenge

Every year, US businesses pay $63 billion in erroneous credit card processing fees. Overcharging occurs due to incorrect account setup, transaction misclassification, or improperly applied discounts.

How We Can Help

We could save your organization 15–30% through a detailed analysis of your credit card fees that identifies and eliminates errors and corrects suboptimal interchange rates.

Thorough Audit

Our experts conduct a detailed review of your merchant accounts. We identify all categories of overcharging, optimize your interchange rates, and develop an effective strategy for maximum cost reduction.

No Business Disruption

Realizing savings won't require you to change processing vendors, and our review doesn't disrupt your business or the experience of your customers.

Proprietary Process

Using our proprietary process, our team applies micro-adjustments that address each aspect of your processing fees, including interchange and card association fees.

Ongoing Review

On an ongoing basis, we monitor and optimize your merchant account to ensure savings are realized. Each month, we thoroughly analyze your statements and provide a report for your review.
